

The Biggest African Music Awards in Diaspora Returns Live with AFRIMMA 2022 “This is Africa”

Dallas, TX– The African Muzik Magazine Awards (AFRIMMA) is set to return with a live audience for the 9th edition of the highly acclaimed award ceremony. Due to the advent of Covid-19, the past two editions had been held virtually and live-streamed on YouTube. However, fans who had been yearning and asking when the live show would return can heave a sigh of relief now. The countdown is on for the 19th of November 2022 as AFRIMMA returns with a live audience at Gilley’s in Dallas, TX.

This is your active save the date call and according to AFRIMMA CEO, Anderson Obiagwu, “We have missed having the live shows and having the audience rooting for the stars, this year promises to be even bigger than previous years. All I would say is stay tuned as more major announcements are set to be revealed”. It has been a stellar year for African music and African music talents as the world is caught in Afrobeats frenzy, AFRIMMA is determined to continue crossing boundaries with music in supporting all African artists.

Aptly tagged ‘This is Africa’, AFRIMMA 2022 is set to further cement the legacy being created by the various talented African musicians. The 2021 edition was tagged “Flavors of Africa” and the virtual audience was thrilled with a thorough feast of the different flavors of African Music. AFRIMMA 2022 ‘This is Africa’ edition is deemed as the celebration of this time; the time is Africa’s time. The world has caught on to the beauty and diversity of our sounds and the best we can do is dish more out of the abundant pot of talents as we cross more boundaries with African music. This is Africa!
